PELL CANNOT SEE HIS SON. Wife's Divorce Decree Contains an I nusual Provision. Justice Guy of the Supreme Court granted

yesterday an interlocutory decree of divorce to Mrs. Mary Hutton Pell from Alexander Mercer Pell on the report of Charles D. Bliss, referee. The marriage took place in June, 1897, and the couple have not lived together for some time. For three years Mrs. Pell has been living in London, where the has the management of the Dysari Hotel. Mr. Pell at his marriage settled on his wife an estate in Herkimer county which was valued at $100,000, and she subsequently carried on a large dairy business there. Since their separation Mr. Pell has lived at Warren, N. Y.

The decree awards to Mrs. Pell the custody of the only son of the marriage and it contains the unusual clause that Pell shall not be allowed to see the child for two years after the entry of final judgment. After that he may see the boy at suitab times and places which will be fixed by the Court. Mr. Pell is a grandson of Gen. Mercer.

Mrs. Pell is a member of the Ecclesine family of Herkimer county.

WELLS COLLEGE OPENED. The Largest Registration in its History -Changes in the Faculty

AURORA, N. Y., Sept. 20.-Wells College opened this week with the largest registration in its history. The trustees have recently acquired the property formerly owned by W. H. Bogart, also the cottage opposite, both of which are to be used as residence houses.

In the resignation of Prof. J. W. Freley necessitated by continued illness, the college has lost one who has served it with devotion and fidelity for nineteen years. Prof. Freley's successor is John Whit-more, Ph. D., formerly professor of physics in Colby University.

Prof. J. W. Motley, who resigned last year to accept a position in Leland Stanford University as associate professor in the University as associate professor in the department of economics, is succeeded by James B Kennedy, Ph. D., Johns Hopkins.
Prof. Van Benschoten is to continue her study in Cornell for the year, but will at the same time resume the classes in advanced mathematics. During the absence of Prof. Pugh in Europe the direction of the French department will be under the charge of Miss Mary Gardner, A. B., University of Kansas. Miss Antoinette Greene, M. A., (Cornell, '07), takes the place of Miss Watson, resigned, as reader in English.

CHEMIST THREATENED HER. Enrico Bianchi Arrested on Complaint of a Widow.

Mrs. Timocenzo Garofoli, a widow living at 157 East 103d street, complained last week to the District Attorney that she was in fear of Enrico Bianchi, a chemist of 400 East 106th street, who had threatened to kill her if she did not send him $100. He lives with his brother, Dr. Frank Bianchi, and has a laboratory at 483 Park avenue, Detective Russo was sent to arrest Bianchi and he found him in front of Mrs. Garofoli's and he found him in front of Mrs. Garofoli's house shaking his fist at her window. Every few minutes he would call to her, saying he wanted to cut her throat. Russo found a ten inch knife in his pocket.

CARRY TYPHOID FOR YEARS. Persons Apparently in Perfect Health Said

to Transmit the Disease to Others HARTFORD, Sept. 20.- New light is thrown on the causes of the spread of typhoid fever by a statement made by Dr. J. H. Townsend, secretary of the Connecticut State Board of Health, in the board's report for the month of August, which has just been issued.

Typhoid bacilli may be carried for years after an attack of the fever, Dr. Townsend says, without any apparent inconvenience to the patient and without his knowledge of the fact. According to Kutscher, a German expert, about 4 per cent. of typhoid patients become chronic carriers through the failure of their bodies to expel entirely the failure of their bodies to expel entirely the dangerous bacilli. A carrier of the disease may be apparently healthy in every respect and yet infect persons with whom he comes into contact.

The case of a cook in New York is cited who had during the six years following an attack of typhoid fever worked in several families. In these families no fewer than twenty-six cases of fever developed. The evidence against her seemed so convincing that she was forcibly removed to a hospital, where an examination confirmed the suspicion that she was a typhoid carrier.

Owing to the increase in the number of cases of typhoid in Connecticut the report suggests the need of extreme watchfulness on the part of health authorities.

Hammond Examined by Sheriff's Jury.

The commission appointed by the Supreme Court to inquire, with a Sheriff's ury, into the mental condition of James B. standard thi of New York for independent refineries he put in evidence a document which he called a contract, but which filtered said was merely an agreement that was put in force in 1992 and abrogated only this year. According to this understanding, the witness said, the Standard company agreed to furnish the specified independent refineries with a maximum amount of crude oil a day, and in turn the refineries were to give to the Standard of New York all the oil they wished to sell abroad.

The Standard Oil Company of New York made the official quotations on export oil and bought from the independent refiners at these figures. Mr. Filtord denied that he had once written a letter of remonstrance to A. V. Turning to the selling department of the domestic trade, the prosecutor wanted to know whether or not there was a domestic trade committee. Mr. Tilford insisted that there was not, despite the evidence to the contrary which J. D. Archbold gave in the Missouri investigation under Hadley and which Kellogg recalled. The witness said that each subsidiary of the Standard company had its own department of domestic sales and that most of the men in charge of this department in the various companies were established at the general offices of the company, 26 Broadway. They might meet together occasionally, but they did not constitute a committee.

Mr. Kellogg then had the witness name the selling companies under the Standard

Mr. Relings then had the winess lather the selling companies under the Standard system throughout the country and give approximately the territory covered by each and the refineries from which they drew their supplies. DR. SHEPARD NOT A SUICIDE. Coroner's Jury So Reports-No Contest of the Will Expected.

The testimony of all the witnesses exmined last night by Coroner Brewer of Brooklyn in his inquiry into the sudden death of Dr. A. Warner Shepard, the veteran county physician, at his home on the Shore road last Sunday morning, tended to establish the fact that the morphine which killed the doctor was not taken with a suicidal intent.

The inquest was held in the Coroner's private office without a jury. Former Police Commissioner Bernard J. York, who was Dr. Shepard's legal adviser and drew up Dr. Shepard's legal adviser and drew up his will a few months ago, was present as the guardian of the interests of the widow, Mrs. Mary Myers Shepard, with whose family Dr. Shepard had made his home for many years, but to whom he was married only five months ago. Neither the "blond" woman nor any others who have been mentioned in connection with the doctor's death appeared.

Dr. Bruce G. Blackmar, who was at Dr. Shepard's side within twenty minutes after he received the call, testified that the deceased had used every effort to save himself. Dr. Louis C. Ager, who was also in attendance, gave corroborating testimony. Mary McCarty, a domestic at the house, swore that there was no truth in the story published since Dr. Shepard's death that she had on one occasion taken a revelver from him when he was going to shoot himself.

The verdict as recorded by Coroner Brewer was that Dr. Shepard came to his death by an overdose of morphine, self-administered, but without any intention of killing himself.

The men arrested are Daniel J. Larkey, conductor: Joseph Flanagan, brakeman; Joseph S. Stafford, brakeman; John Palmer, switch tender; Fred Gillette, brakeman, and George Silver.

switch tender; Fred Gillette, brakeman, and George Slyer.
Chief Humphrey said all of the men had confessed to having a hand in the reberies and that clothing was found in the homes of some of them.
"We found two fur coats at the home of Larkey," he said, "and also found that Flanagan's wife was wearing shoes that had been stolen. Larkey has been in the employ of the Central for twenty-three years, and all of the men are earning from $3 to $4 a day."
